I have been advertising in Biz X Magazine for the last five years, and just re-signed for another year. I chose to advertise in Biz X magazine because of its leisure readership. A factual magazine with a twist of fun to it... something to take the edge off!

I find this type of reader is more absorbent with my type of business advertising. I have tried other local magazines and none have given the same return, and let's face it, we want a return on our advertising investment.

I really like the service provided by the staff. Publisher Deborah Jones is hands on when you need her and treats me as if I was one of her biggest advertisers.

After experimenting over the past five years with most Windsor Magazines... I have found Biz X to be the best. I would recommend their product and service to any business.

Regards,
